

Cookie Policy

J.B.O.T. UK Ltd | Effective 28 September 2026 | Version 2.0

This policy explains how cookies and similar technologies may be used on www.jbotuk.com, and how you can control them. It replaces the 1 November 2022 policy. It should be read with our Privacy Policy.

What cookies are

Cookies are small files placed on a device when a website is used. Similar technologies may include local storage, pixels or scripts. Some help a site work; others may measure use or support external content. A cookie can be set by us (first party) or another provider (third party).

Our approach to consent

Technologies that are strictly necessary to deliver a service you request may be used without cookie consent. Where consent is required for optional technologies, we ask before setting them. You should be able to accept or reject optional categories and change your choice later through the site's cookie settings. Rejecting optional technologies should not prevent access to core pages. We do not treat continued browsing as consent.

Cookie categories

Essential: security, navigation, consent preferences or functions needed for a service you request. These are used only when the relevant exception applies.

Analytics and performance: help us understand visits and site performance. We seek consent where required; any applicable limited exception is assessed against current law and the specific technology.

Functional and third party content: may remember choices or enable embedded features, such as video or booking tools. Third party services may set their own technologies when enabled.

Advertising: may measure or personalise marketing if used. These require prior consent.

The live cookie list

The website's cookie settings should show the current technology name, provider, purpose, category and duration. Because these depend on the active site configuration and third party services, this document does not present unverified names or claim that every category above is in use. J.B.O.T. UK Ltd will maintain a current cookie inventory and update the settings panel when site tools change.

Managing your choices

Use the website's cookie settings control to review or withdraw optional consent. You can also remove or block cookies in your browser settings. Blocking essential cookies can affect site functions; changing browser settings does not automatically withdraw consent recorded by the site, so use the settings control where available.

Personal information and contact

Some technologies collect information that can identify or distinguish a user, such as an online identifier or IP address. Our Privacy Policy explains how we handle personal information and your rights. Contact info@jbotuk.com about this policy or difficulty accessing cookie controls.

Review

We review this policy and the cookie inventory after relevant website changes and at least annually. The live settings and banner must be checked against the technologies actually deployed before this policy is published.
